

About D&H Distributing

D&H is a leading technology and electronics goods merchant wholesale distributor providing the latest solutions and services and exceptional partner experiences to resellers and retailers throughout North America.

- D&H is the third largest distributor in the US.
- D&H Distributing is a family-run business.
- D&H is employee-owned through its employee stock ownership plan (ESOP).
- D&H Distributing has been in business for 105 years.
- You and your IT Distribution Team are 100% US based (as far as your team supports the US business. You have another team in Canada that supports the Canadian business).
- D&H doesn't do any outsourcing and the average tenure of your team members (fellow co-owners) is about 9 years.
- The people at D&H along with the training and support are the difference maker between your company and other distributors in the marketplace.